2.1 We comply with national and international laws and regulations

We abide by all the appropriate international and national laws and regulations.

We adhere to our own internal Ahlstrom policies and procedures and ask for guidance whenever we are unsure.

We avoid any dealings with competitors or other firms that could be harmful to our customers’ interests.

We condemn all corrupt business practices and refuse to take part in any act of bribery, whether of government officials or anyone else.

2.2 We respect and promote human rights

We treat all our people with respect and give them all equal opportunities for personal growth and professional development, regardless of their gender, age, race, ethnicity, disabilities, nationality, sexual orientation, religious beliefs, political affiliations, marital or economic status, or position within the company.

We support the United Nations' Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the International Labour Organization's Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work, the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, and the UN Global Compact covering human rights, labour, the environment, and anti-corruption. This commits us to eradicate child labour and forced labour anywhere in our supply chain and recognize our employees' right to freedom of association and collective bargaining.

2.3 We adhere to high ethical standards in everything we do

We conduct our business with the utmost professionalism and integrity, and to the most demanding moral, ethical, and legal standards.

We keep our promises and take due care of our own employees and the people and firms we do business with.

This is all part of our belief that we have a responsibility to manage the planet's resources sustainably, on behalf of future generations.

2.5 We are committed to maintaining a safe, healthy and fair workplace for our employees

We take responsibility for our own, colleagues', contractors' and visitors' safety by following the company's occupational health and safety policy, standards, guidelines, safety rules and lifesaving rules.

We listen to local people, and take their views into account, and encourage our own employees to play an active role in their own neighbourhoods.

2.8 We avoid conflicts of interest

We take care that no personal considerations or relationships influence the way we do business on behalf of the company.

3 How to report a concern

We want all our employees and other stakeholders to feel they can freely report any concerns they might have about possible violations of this Code. This might include, for example, suspected irregularities in accounting or financial reporting, potential conflicts of interest or illegal acts, as well as any environmental or human rights issues.

Employees can report concerns like this to their own manager, or to any other senior manager or the Human Resources or Legal department. If you wish to remain anonymous your identity will not be revealed unless it is absolutely necessary in order to carry out a proper investigation.

Ahlstrom has established a secure reporting line SpeakUp which is maintained by an external service provider. SpeakUp is available 24/7 through online reporting tool www.speakupfeedback.eu/web/7takex/ or via phone. Country-specific detailed information about reporting is available on Ahlstrom intranet page for speak-up. The speak-up reports may be done anonymously in 14 languages (Chinese, English, Finnish, Flemish, French, German, Gujarat, Hindi, Italian, Korean, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish and Swedish).

Employees can also send their concerns via e-mail to a dedicated and confidential mailbox codeviolation@ahlstrom.com. Only the company's General Counsel and Head of Compliance have access to this email address.
